1. Five engineers of the administration of the administration of the Danube-Black Sea Canal have been arrested on charges of sabotage. Among those arrested a certain engineer Nadler has been accused of permitting several carloads of equipment to move back and forth between Bucharest and the canal shops without ordering their unloading. Another engineer, one Alecu, has been accused of overestimating the quantity of electric power required for work at the canal shops. The others were arrested on the charge of changing the course of the canal in the vicinity of Siut Ghiol without having informed the canal administration in Bucharest.
2. On 6 March steam pressure in the boilers of the Grozavești plant was lowered and the generators failed. Although several engineers and technicians have been arrested, the cause of this power failure has not yet been determined.
